SWIM, BIKE AND RUN AT THE TRIATHLON

Mamta Lulla - Western Review
Volunteers wearing orange vests guided road users and racers the morning of May 7 as the fifth annual Drayton Valley Triathlon went ahead. Some roads were closed for the event around the Park Valley Pool and the Rotary Park. Participants swam, ran and biked as part of the event and so did some of the local councillors and Mayor Glenn McLean. Turn to page 20 for more.

Council discusses Municipal Inspection Report

Justine Kinnison
Western Review

Brazeau County Council members attended a special council meeting on May 9. One of the two main topics discussed at the meeting was the municipal inspection report.

The Municipal Inspection Report came from an inspection done by Russell Farmer and Associates Consulting Ltd., who was appointed by the Minister of Municipal Affairs, Danielle Larivee. An inspection was done in response to a petition from electors received by Larivee on Nov. 27, 2014. The request was for Larivee "to undertake an inquiry into the affairs of Brazeau County under section 572 of the Municipal Government Act (MGA)".

The six main sections in the report includes relationships, council operations, HR practices, planning and development, financial position and practices, and inter-municipal agreements.

RELOCATING THE CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER (CAO) IN THE COUNCIL CHAMBERS

A recommendation was made by the inspectors to relocate the county's CAO, Marco Schoeninger, in the Council Chambers to be separated from council. This recommendation from the inspectors came after assessing "the working relationship within Council and between Council and the CAO." In council meetings, Schoeninger sits beside Brazeau County Reeve Bart Guyon. After discussion by councillors, a motion was made by Councillor Maryann Thompson that the CAO be relocated in the Council Chambers to be separated from council. The motion was carried.

COUNCIL TO KEEP PUBLIC INPUT SESSIONS

Inspectors sent by the Minister of Municipal Affairs recommended that Council discontinue public input sessions during council meetings and that public participation in council meetings be limited to delegations.

Councillors discussed the recommendation and Guyon said the public has always been welcomed in council meetings throughout the county's history and he would like to keep it that way.

"We are a small rural community and we do things a little bit more flexible compared to the big city so let's keep it simple, let's keep it open, and let's keep the opportunity for public to come forward," said Guyon. "That is just my opinion because it's been around since I've been around for politics and almost the entire history of this county. It's part of tradition, it's part of history of this county, and it's part of our culture of how we do business in Brazeau County."

After further discussions, Heinrich made a motion to accept the inspector's recommendation as information and to continue, having public input sessions in council meetings.

"I think it would be more appropriate that we continue to allow the public to be able to come in and speak to us as they have for the existence of this county and for us in this council to change that might be just unfavorable," said Heinrich. "And so with that I make a motion to receive this (recommendation) as information with no change."

Guyon said he agrees with Heinrich but suggested that changes be made to how public input sessions are done.

"I am agreeing to keep this the same but making some changes in regards to how we deal with people that are disrespectful to council and staff," said Guyon.

An amendment was then put forward by Westerlund.

"A friendly amendment that we add to the next regular council meeting condition to make public input more productive," she said.

Heinrich made another motion to accept Westerlund's amendment and Heinrich's motion was carried.

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR COUNCIL

Inspectors recommended that council develop and adopt a Code of Conduct that is reviewed regularly, and affirmed by council following each election or by-election. There was a short discussion between council members. Coun. Marc Gressler made a motion to ask administration to put together a Code of Conduct for Council; however, Coun. Anthony Heinrich also made a motion to table this item until after the MGA review is complete. Heinrich's motion was not carried. Council members then voted for Gressler's motion which was carried.

DISCONTINUED DIVISIONAL MEETINGS

It was recommended by the inspectors that council discontinue divisional meetings.

Schoeninger explained that having divisional meetings started in 2012.

"Prior to 2012, council typically had one annual general meeting. One annual general meeting was the opportunity for council to interact with its constituents," said Schoeninger. "However, Council felt that through our review of public interaction engagement that they would undertake steps in 2012 to initiate divisional meetings. There will be meetings held in each division to give a chance to share what the budget was and some of the long term plans, and at that point in time offer an opportunity for dialogue for its constituency and that was undertaken in place of the annual general meeting."

However, Schoeninger commented that divisional meetings "have been counter-productive."

"I think that it is not (a good fit) for council in any way shape or form. It certainly has not been to Administration," he said. "As a result, recommendation is consistent with what Russell Farmer and Associates Consulting has brought on the table and at that point in time, no further divisional meetings have been recommended."

Council discussions led to two motions. The first motion was to discontinue divisional meetings. The motion was carried. Coun. Kara Westerlund made a second motion to have two annual general meetings. Westerlund's motion was carried.

VICTORIA DAY

The Administration office and Public Works shop will be closed Monday, May 23* for the Victoria Day Civic Holiday.

Change to Brazeau County Tax Due Date

Brazeau County has moved its tax due date to June 30.

To avoid penalties, taxes must be paid by that date, unless you are signed up for the Tax Instalment Payment Plan (TIPP). The 2016 Combined Assessment Tax Notices will be mailed in mid-May. If you are interested in the Tax Instalment Payment Plan, please call 780-542-7777 and speak to Taxation Co-ordinator Colin Semp.

Is the Tax Instalment Payment Plan right for you?

Brazeau County provides the opportunity for the payment of annual taxes on a monthly basis.

For those who prefer to budget throughout the year, Brazeau County offers the Tax Instalment Payment Plan (TIPP). The plan allows property owners to pay their property tax in monthly instalments instead of a single payment each year. Payments are withdrawn from your bank account on the last business day of the month. It's easy to sign up! The only requirements are that you have chequing or saving privileges at a financial institution (bank, trust company, treasury branch or credit union), and that you do not currently pay your taxes through a mortgage company (Principle, Interest and Taxes (PITI) program).

If this program sounds like it fits your needs you can download the Tax Instalment Payment Plan application form from our website at <http://www.brazeau.ab.ca/country-hall/corporate-services/monthly-payment-plan>. Application forms are also available at the Brazeau County Administration Building.

For more information on our Tax Instalment Payment Plan, please contact our office at 780-542-7777 and ask to speak to Taxation Co-ordinator Colin Semp.

Fort McMurray evacuees are our residents

Michael Lohr
Western Review

Drayton Valley community had about 150 evacuees as of May 12 changing from about 250 evacuees as of May 11.

Mayor Glenn McLean and Town Council echoed that these evacuees are now Drayton Valley residents as the Town Council meeting on May 11.

They are our evacuees. Our community, the outpouring support that we have been receiving is heartwarming," said Mayor Glenn McLean.

Dennis Poulin, workplace safety emergency coordinator for the Town of Drayton Valley said about 100 beds were ready at the Omniplex for those evacuees who may need it on May 11. He added that about 200 plus beds were on standby should there be a need. He explained that the emergency committee expected the people will be in need of accommodations when their insurance runs out.

"They will run out and we expect this to be the long haul for these evacuees," he said.

The Town had also set up a trailer housing system with sanitary, water and power system for evacuees.

According to a release sent out by the Town of Drayton Valley on May 12, the camp that the Town had set up was dismantled.

"The Town of Drayton Valley has received direction from the provincial government for the development of short term and long term housing for our evacuees. The Town of Drayton Valley has approximately 150 evacuees in our area. The Reception Centre at the Drayton Valley Omniplex is available for all evacuees arriving to our community.

DRAYTON VALLEY: The Town of Drayton Valley has approximately 150 evacuees in our area. The Reception Centre at the Drayton Valley Omniplex is available for all evacuees arriving to our community.

The Town of Drayton Valley has received direction from the provincial government for the development of short term and long term housing for our evacuees. The camp set up to house the evacuees in our community in West Valley Park will be dismantled and all evacuees will currently remain with their existing accommodations.

We are working with the community to ensure the continued comfort and safety of the evacuees is of the highest priority. Working with our partners in Drayton Valley and area we have been term housing for our evacuees. The camp set up to house the evacuees in our community in West Valley Park will be dismantled and all evacuees will currently remain with their existing accommodations," stated the release from the Town.

At the meeting on May 11 Poulin had said that the activation of the emergency management system is probably one of the biggest, "says that the Town has seen."

"I think the province of Alberta is truly seeing something remarkable. This disaster is unprecedented in our province's history. We have never seen anything like this in Drayton Valley before," he said.

The Wild Rose School Division and STAR Catholic School Division confirmed that they had enrolled one student at one of their schools in Drayton Valley last week. There is a student at Evergreen Elementary and another at St. Anthony School.

Poulin was grateful to Brazeau County for their support along with many other community members and organizations who have been helping the evacuees.

"What's amazing is how this community comes together to welcome the evacuees that we have received and the flood of phone calls we are receiving are consisting of donations or money. It's truly remarkable to witness that," he said.

Evacuees who need assistance anytime can call 780-514-2234.

All evacuees arriving in the Drayton Valley area are encouraged to register at the reception centre set up at the Omniplex.

able to meet the challenges we have faced during this trying time.

As one of the first reception centres in the province, The Town of Drayton Valley would like to thank any and all in our community for showing our evacuees the generous and welcoming spirit that our region has to offer.

YARD & GARDEN 2016

Aurora is working towards a butterfly garden

MARIE LUTIA
Western Review

Aurora Elementary School is looking to install a butterfly garden near the school to attract butterflies in the fall.

The school will hear back about a grant during fall time with an organization that provides grants up to $7000. The butterfly garden will be around the gazebo right across from the main entrance of the school.

The school also wants to maintain what they already have, which is an outdoor garden that all students help with and an indoor garden in the Grade 1 classroom. The school asks parent volunteers to help out during the summer with the upkeep of the gardens.

"We are really lucky that our parents are interested in helping out. It's on a volunteer basis. So families can come with their kids and help water and weed and spend some time together," said Grade 1 teacher and music teacher at Aurora Elementary School, Heather Barry.

Just recently, the school purchased a weed trimmer for the garden and is hoping the experience is just as rewarding for children this year as it was last year.

"At the end of last year, Grade 1 students had the indoor garden throughout the year and they went home, probably seven of my 18 kids, to plant their own gardens, like begged their parents to have their own garden," she said.

The gardening experience is rewarding for students, explained the teacher. She added that students get excited about simple tasks such as watering the plants, and weeding and watching growth.

It also teaches them about the right kind of soil, sun exposure and where the food comes from and being able to grow your own food.

Mamta Lulia Western Review

Aurora Elementary School students and staff help take care of outdoor and indoor gardens at the school. A grant may help the school to expand the gardens and include a butterfly garden.

Residents have campfires despite fire ban

Justin Kinnison
Western Review

The Drayton Valley RCMP received a call on May 5 at 6 p.m. It was reported that somebody was having a campfire. Police attended the scene and the fire was put out.

Another report of somebody having a fire in a rural area was received by the RCMP on May 5. The fire was extinguished.

STOLEN VEHICLES

A 2005 Suzuki 700 quad was reported stolen from the back of a truck on May 6 at 8 a.m. The truck was parked at a local hotel's parking lot. The quad was later recovered.

A possible stolen vehicle was located by the RCMP on May 10 at 2 p.m. The vehicle was partially submerged in the Pembina River and was towed out. Investigations revealed that the vehicle was not stolen.

RCMP received a complaint on May 11 regarding a stolen 2007 Polaris Ranger on 55 Street. The RCMP are still investigating and asks the public to come to the detachment if anyone has any information.

On May 12 at 7 a.m., a break and enter occurred on 55 Street. It was reported that a red Honda quad was stolen.

MALE BUYS DRUGS

A call from a local drugstore was received by the RCMP on May 6 at 1:30 p.m. It was reported that a male came into the store trying to buy drugs using a photocopied prescription. RCMP attended and the male was arrested.

GAS AND DASH

On May 6, RCMP received a complaint of theft of fuel from a local gas station located on 50 Avenue in town by Highway 22. The case is still under investigation but RCMP have a suspect.

DISTURBANCE COMPLAINT

RCMP responded to a local licensed establishment on May 6 at 9 p.m. due to a disturbance call received by police. An intoxicated male was arrested and spent the night at the Drayton Valley RCMP detachment.

BREAK AND ENTER

There was a report of a break and enter on May 8 at 9 a.m. on 46 Street in Drayton Valley. However, no entry was gained.

On May 8 at 12:06 a.m., RCMP received a call regarding a male trying to get into a residence on 49 Street in town. The male was intoxicated and said he knew someone who used to live in that residence. The male spent the night at the Drayton Valley RCMP detachment.

SUSPICIOUS VEHICLES

There was a report of two vehicles driving on somebody's property on Range Road 82 on May 11. They eventually left the scene and were not seen again.

Bikemiles

Vehicle Theft is an ongoing concern not only in this area but for the province as well. According to Statistics Canada in 2014, rates of Police-reported motor vehicle thefts were highest in Alberta at 402 per 100,000 population, in the Drayton Valley Detachment policing area for 2015, there was an aggregate total of 165 reported vehicle thefts for the Town and Strathcona County. Of those vehicles 144 were recovered, with the rest still outstanding, destroyed or otherwise. Vehicle theft is normally a crime of opportunity, and a vehicle can normally be stolen within 60 seconds by a skilled criminal.

Some suggestions to issues we run across are as follows:

1. Remove your keys, lock the doors and roll up the windows of your vehicle. Believe it or not, Police tend to run across this issue fairly often, where keys are left in the ignition of vehicles (approximately 20% of all vehicles reported stolen in Canada), and/or vehicle doors remain unlocked and windows cracked open or rolled down. Another issue in this area is also keeping a spare set of keys inside the vehicle or in a hiding spot; criminals have caught on to the usual locations where these are kept. There have also been cases where thieves have stolen keys from convenient locations, such as in the garage or near the front door and taken the vehicle. The best way to view your keys to your vehicle is like a bank card - keep it on your person at all times.

2. Utilize a visible theft device. More often than not a thief who sees something like a club theft deterrent or an alarm will usually pass on that vehicle. The key for most thieves is not being detected while attempting to take a vehicle. The more time a criminal has to spend trying to steal your vehicle the less likely they will attempt it. Parking in a well lit area is also a good idea as it is more difficult for criminals to conceal what they are doing. If you have a vehicle parked outside consider using a motion sensor to light up some-one comes near your vehicle.

3. Don't leave your vehicle running unattended. A quick stop to the convenience store, or running into the post office to get the mail, and when you come back out your vehicle is gone. Shut off your vehicle, secure it, and then conduct your business. Small children should not be left alone in vehicles as there have been cases in Alberta where vehicles have been stolen and kids were in the backseat - any parents' worst nightmare.

4. Don't leave valuables in your car. I will expand more on this with the theft from vehicles portion of this article, but leaving valuables in plain view makes your vehicle a target for theft.

5. Consider some sort of tracking device to be installed. Several private companies offer tracking services for owners of vehicles so they can assist the Police in finding their vehicle. There is usually a monthly fee associated for this service. There are also electronic disabling devices available that can be utilized to assist with preventing a theft of your vehicle.

6. Park in your garage. Simply put, parking a vehicle in the garage with the doors locked and the garage locked makes it that much harder for a thief to get at your vehicle. If you are going away for a period of time consider taking the history out of the vehicle so it cannot be started.

The next part of this is focused on theft from vehicles. Commonly these types of thefts occur during the night, usually from around 10 P.M. to around 4 A.M. Our Detachment has received multiple calls for service the next morning after a spree of these types of thefts. A great deal are not reported and I would encourage all incidents to be reported to the Police.

Normally the way these types of thefts occur is again, based on opportunity. Criminals going vehicle door to vehicle door, checking to see if the doors are locked or not. Looking inside of vehicles for valuables. Some of the most common items stolen are smartphones, work tools, sunglasses, loose change, GPS units, laptops, iPods, garage door openers or keys and personal info. Usually these perpetrators are on foot or using a bicycle and will have some sort of bag like a backpack with them, and may have a look in case of Police presence.

This type of crime is usually one of the easiest to prevent and simply takes some change in how you do things. Some suggestions to reduce the likelihood of theft from your vehicle are:

1. Secure your vehicle. As noted earlier, this is the first and most important step to preventing theft of items from your vehicle. If the thief can't get in easily, they are likely to move on.

2. Keep it clean inside. Bribe of things like chargers, money, sunglasses or other valuables laying in plain view make your vehicle a target. As mentioned earlier, keep things out of sight and the best practice is to take all of your valuables with you. If the thief believes they have nothing to take, they are unlikely to break a window or defeat a lock to get in.

3. Remove any garage door openers. A thief who takes this can gain access to your garage and very possibly your home. Taking this out of your vehicle when not occupied is just a good habit to get into.

4. Get to know the neighbourhood you live in. People recognize when someone in their area is out of place. Patterns of who should be in an area after a while and you get to know your neighbours. Get to know your neighbours. If you see someone who isn't from around there acting out of place or doing suspicious behavior like checking doors call the Police immediately.

Lastly, it has happened in the past where a member of the public has located a cache of stolen items secreted under a bush or placed somewhere out of sight. If you do please do not touch it and call Police to collect it. Keep your eyes on the area until Police attend as it

Members needed for Drayton Valley Rural Crime Watch

Justin Kinnison
Western Review

The Drayton Valley Rural Crime Watch has been protecting the community for three years.

According to Marcel Lapointe, Drayton Valley Rural Crime Watch president, the organization was formed in 2013.

"In the late winter and spring into the summer of 2013, there were a lot of thefts in the area and citizens were not happy with it," he said. "I got a few people interested in the rural crime watch concept, the RCMP got involved and from that the association was born."

The main purpose of the organization is to assist in preventing crime by improving community awareness and sharing information with other crime watch and crime prevention groups in the area.

"One thing to clarify is we are not citizens patrolling the county. Citizens on Patrol does that," Lapointe said. "We want to raise awareness amongst residents to be aware of what is going on around them. If they see suspicious activity, report that activity. Get to know your neighbour well enough to know when a strange vehicle is parked on their property and be willing to call them to confirm if the vehicle should or should not be there. Care about your neighbours. We also maintain an e-mail based fan out system. The RCMP forward some details on crimes to our members with the goal that someone reading it will be able to supply them with information."

Lapointe encourages anyone interested in becoming members of the Drayton Valley Rural Crime Watch to contact them by e-mailing drvalcrimewatch@gmail.com or calling (780) 542-5230. The public is also invited to attend a community barbeque hosted by the organization on May 26 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at Violet

Croze Hall Yard.

"We are always looking for members. We can drive a lot of crime out of here, the more people are informed and acting as a deterrent. The Drayton Valley Rural Crime Watch is a way for people to get involved in reducing and eliminating crime without exposing themselves to some of the hazards that could arise," said Lapointe. "Our association concentrates on maintaining the famous system, building an effective road side Rural Crime Watch Area sign system, and hosting Get to Know Your Neighbour Barbeque."

Man pleads guilty for assault on mother

A Drayton Valley resident who assaulted his mother by putting a choke hold on her pleaded guilty in Drayton Valley Provincial Court May 10 but will have to wait until September to find out what his punishment will be.

Facts read in court indicated that on June 8 of 2015, RCMP responded to a residence in town where an argument was taking place between Austin Novosel and his mother, resulting in Novosel putting a choke hold on her.

After pleading guilty to the assault, Judge Mackie accepted the plea and ordered a pre-sentence report and a facts report done. Due to the length of time it takes to get them done, Novosel will be back in court on September 15 to determine an appropriate punishment.

Forgoing to clean long guns and hand guns prove costly

Forgoing to clean and store long guns and hand guns has cost a Drayton Valley man several hundred dollars worth of fines, but got off with a suspended sentence and a one year common law peace bond instead.

Court heard that following a hunting trip on October 27 of 2015, Michael Tymchuk and his companion law spouse had an argument and the RCMP were called out to his residence. Once inside the residence, police discovered 12 long guns and two of his three handguns that were improperly stored. In court, Tymchuk explained he had lost the key to his gun locker and drilled open the lock but hadn't had the locker not obtained a new one. Two of the hand guns he possessed were also not in a zippered storage bag and case.

As a result, Tymchuk was handed a suspended sentence on one count plus a $100 fine, and on another count, was given a $500 fine plus a $150 victim fine surcharge. In addition, he was to enter into a common-law peace bond with his spouse for one year. Under the bond, he is to attend all assessment and treatment programs as requested by his parole officer, including an anger management class, and provide written proof of his attendance in these programs.

He will continue to have contact with his spouse. His long guns and hand guns were not forfeited by the Crown, and since the charges, Tymchuk purchased a new gun locker.

Man gets intermittent jail time for break and enter

A former resident of Drayton Valley has been ordered to serve three months in custody, to be served intermittently, after pleading guilty to a count of break and enter. Court heard that on August 27 of 2015, a security alarm was activated at a resident's garage in Drayton Valley. A witness saw a man clad in a black balaclava rummaging through the garage and a vehicle before running away. When RCMP arrived and apprehended the suspect, Levi Benink, they discovered that he had a stolen canoe in his front pants pocket.

Crown Prosecutor Chris Palmer told Judge Mackie that had Benink broken into a home instead of a detached garage, he would have been sent to a penitentiary. Under a joint submission between Palmer and Benink's defence lawyer, Benink will serve three months in jail, to be served on the weekends. He was also given two years probation, and must keep the peace and be of good behaviour, attend any counselling and assessment as required, notify his parole officer when there is a change of name, address or employment and remain in Alberta unless he has written permission from his parole officer. Judge Mackie also ordered Benink to undergo a psychiatric examination and attend an anger management course.

No tax increase

Cathy Weetman
Western Review

There will be no property tax increase for home owners in Drayton Valley this year.

At a special meeting of Drayton Valley Town Council held May 4, Council approved the 2016 Operating and Capital Budgets as presented by Councillor Nicole Nadeau.

Here is the break down of the Operating and Capital Budget:

Operating Revenues	$15,508,055
Taxes (net of school and senior regulations) -	$11,196,267
Total Revenues	$26,694,322
Operating Expenditures	$25,196,261
Debt repayment -	$1,039,473
Transfers to reserves -	$454,988
Total expenditures:

$26,694,322

Capital expenditures and financing

$4,485,459

Supplementary information from support staff in the Treasury Department indicates the Town will also have Grants/Donations/Other for $42,172,756, a Town funded amount of $7,796,700 and Expected to borrow amount of $3,943,315.

Substantial infrastructure investment is required in 2016 but will continue through the year 2020.

The budget was approached with a goal of a minimal tax increase while maintaining service levels and contributing to town infrastructure.

The result is a projected 0 percent property tax increase. The average residential property tax bill will remain unchanged.

Property tax late payments to be reduced from 15 to five percent

Cathy Weetman
Western Review

At a special meeting held May 4, Drayton Valley Town Council voted in favour of a bylaw reducing the amount of the penalty for late payment of property taxes from 15 to five percent. This bylaw was presented by Councillor Deb Bosser.

The bylaw, which temporarily amends existing Bylaw 2002/01/F states, "Whereas the Council of the Town of Drayton Valley does not at this time wish to impose further financial burdens on its residents, and Whereas it is therefore the intent of the Council of the Town of Drayton Valley to reduce the penalties for the late payment of taxes to be imposed pursuant to Bylaw 2002/01/F from the dates of July 1, 2016 and December 31, 2016, without affecting either penalties which were imposed prior to July 1, 2016, or penalties which may be imposed after December 31, 2016."

Firefighters ready for Fort Mac if needed

Western Review

Drayton Valley/Brezen County Fire Services has submitted a resource list to the Provincial Operational Centre (POC) listing man power and equipment that can be deployed to Fort McMurray if needed.

"No formal request has been made to activate or deploy our internal resources as on standby," said Deputy Fire Officer Sam Lasek.

About 10 to 15 firefighters along with a water tender from Lodgepole Station, two command trucks, one from Drayton Valley and another from Breton station can be deployed instantly should the need arise.

The local fire services is part of Zone Two which includes other communities such as Edson, Hinton, Rocky Mountain House, Jasper and Whitecourt.

The local fire service want to remind the public that the province of Alberta is under a complete fire ban, which means all fires are prohibited.

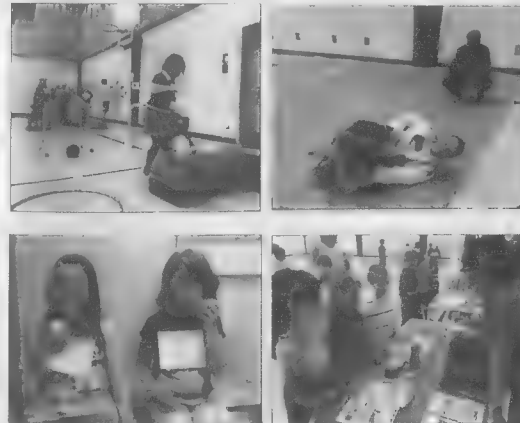

The only exception is contained fires fueled by liquid or gas used for cooking or heating such as barbecues.

The fire ban has been in place due to extreme fire hazard across the province. The ban serves as a precaution to ensure no new fires start in the coming days that will put additional strain on the province's firefighting resources.

There is also a temporary province wide restriction of off-highway vehicle (OHV) recreational use on public lands and provincial parks. The restriction applies to recreational use on public lands, including designated OHV trails. The restriction does not apply to agriculture, public safety or commercial/industrial users who operate OHVs for farming, enforcement or business purposes.

AURORA
Our Grade 2 classes could like to thank Mrs. DeJong for all her hard work and Keyera Corp. for their generous donation that enabled us to visit the Reynolds Museum in Aurora.

A big thank you to our principal, Mrs. DeJong, for presenting Aurora at this year's sponsored Drayton Valley. Also thank to Mrs. B. H. Mrs. Gressler and Mrs. Sauer for leading the team.

Thank you to Patricia James from Alberta Agriculture for spending three days with our students teaching them about farm and recreational safety.

Our annual Education Week pancake breakfast was a success. Thanks to all the staff and parents who prepared the meal and to all the families for coming out and supporting the event. Special mention to White Bull restaurant for cooking all the sausages.

Talent show auditions have begun for those students who have submitted a parent permission form. If you have not signed up for a time slot, please do so at the vice-principal's office.

The Aurora Speech Competition is on Tuesday, May 17, in the gym at 9:00. Families are welcome to attend.

There is no school on May 18, 19, and 23 so enjoy an extra long five-day weekend.

ENTWISTLE

There are still two more days to enter a year-end award. We are looking forward to many great learning opportunities and memorable experiences. Here are some highlights from April, as well as things to look forward to in May.

On April 4th students in grades 4 & 5 visited the Telus World of Science. And on May 10th students from all over the area and from all over the world concluded their final round of CTF at Seba Beach for students and teachers. It was a great day for all families to come and see the students' work. If you are interested in registering for next year please come into the office at your earliest convenience.

Archery season came to an end with the provincial tournament in Drayton Valley. Congratulations to all the competitors. We are eagerly waiting for the final results.

EVERGREEN

Congratulations to the Evergreen Marshmallows and Elephant's Well before the Battle of the Books.

These students met at every possible recess to practice, read and reread texts (they each had to read and know 16 books in 4 weeks), and challenged each other with questions. With adult help from Mrs. Kadylo, Mrs. Thorson, Mrs. Kotyk and Mr. Crawford, both of our teams achieved a gold medal and thanks to Makene Veitch, Lexis Elliott, Katie Nickle, Annika Winter, Emma Richardson, Presley Elliot, Macy Milligan, Rebecca Harkles, Brooke Mackay, Emerson Zanoli and Ellie Felstad.

At our assembly on May 9, we celebrated the achievements for our annual Spellathon fundraiser. Along with class prizes for each grade, we also had school-wide prizes. For the highest amount of money collected in Division 1 (K-3), Cade Kestlar selected a prize for the highest School Note book.

SAUNDERS, Ted -

Edward "Ted" Arthur Saunders was born April 29, 1941 in Carmoud, Alberta on the family farm, the youngest child of Agnes and Victor Saunders. He passed away in Ponoka, Alberta April 26, 2018 at the age of 76. Ted was a very kind, gentle, and caring man when he started working with his family on the farm. He lived a quiet life and resided with his parents until his father's passing in 1989 and his mother moved to Ponoka in 1990. Ted and his wife, Mary Ann, and their family farm in Carmoud, farming and running a sawmill until he moved to Ponoka in 2013. He enjoyed visiting with neighbours, the annual family reunion, and his favourite pastime was fishing. Ted was survived by his brother Joseph (Donna) Saunders of Pitts River of Spruce Grove, and Audrey Kwast of Leduc; numerous nieces, nephews and friends. He was preceded in death by his brothers, John and Joseph, and his parents. He is survived by his wife Mary Ann, his daughter Deb Bur and Otto Kwast, his sister, Brenda, his nieces Debra Grouette and Tonia Clark, A Funeral Home will hold a memorial service on Saturday, May 7, 2016 at 1:00 p.m. in the Ponoka Community Centre. Memorial donations may be made to the Ponoka Community Centre or to the Carmoud Cemetery Fund for the charity of your choice.
